Freelancer.com drops all listing fees for August, allowing employers to post jobs for free!

SYDNEY: August 11th, 2011 – Freelancer.com, the world's largest outsourcing marketplace, today announced it was dropping all listing fees for projects until the end of August, enabling employers to post their projects for free.

Chief Executive Matt Barrie said, "Let your imagination run wild! Take advantage of this limited time offer to get the website built that you always wanted! We've got the world's largest digital workforce ready to turn your ideas into reality. Need a logo? Got an idea for an iPhone application? Want to improve your ranking in the search engines? Hurry up and get posting because it's free!"

You can outsource 400 different types of work easily and cost effectively on Freelancer.com including software development, website design, graphic design, copywriting, research, engineering, manufacturing, product sourcing and more.

Projects start from as little as $30, and typically cost a fraction of what you'd pay to get the same work done locally. To date, over 1.1 million projects have been outsourced through Freelancer.com.

To take advantage of this offer, simply go to www.freelancer.com and click "Post Project".

About Freelancer

Webby award-winning Freelancer.com is the largest outsourcing marketplace in the world. Through Freelancer.com, businesses connect with independent service providers and freelancers. Freelancer.com connects over 2.7 million professionals from all over the world. Through our website, employers can hire freelancers to do work in areas such as software, writing, data entry and design right through to engineering and the sciences, sales & marketing and accounting & legal services. Jobs start from $30, making Freelancer.com extremely cost effective for small businesses, which often need a wide variety of jobs to be done, but cannot justify the expense of hiring full time.
